GET TO KNOW THE PROJECT

The project we wish to speak for is named SUSTAINABILITY COACHES, which represents a journey where you can learn more about sustainability and how to become a coach in the field!

The organization which leads this Erasmus + adventure is VNB (Germany) and partners are Eco Logic (North Macedonia), Synthesis (Cyprus) and CSCI (Italy).

Our idea is to provide trainers and educators with necessary competences on teaching on the topic of sustainable development so they shall then accompany, motivate and inspire their target groups for local sustainable action, having global societies in mind (think global – act local).

COMING SOON: CURRICULUM FOR SUSTAINABILITY COACHES

Through deeper knowledge gained while reading our curriculum you can easily dive into the world of numerous practical activities, assignments and theoretical approaches on sustainable development and its many aspects of teaching. If you've ever wondered, how can you become a good educator who wishes to grasp tightly on the concept of sustainable development, this reading matter might serve you well. Covering many topics such as methodology and didactics of Education for Sustainable Development (ESD), the individual behavior as well as sustainable institutions and civic/political education, we strive to connect you to a number of areas that intertwine with the broad concept that is sustainable development. Soooo, stay tuned until its publishing this year!

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE SO FAR?

We are dedicated to our work and have already organized a training in Hannover, Germany, where we tested the curriculum activities in order to find better ways of their implementation. Staff from all the four countries working in the field have joined their interests towards improving the teaching manners of every educator who will be interested to strive toward improvement of their knowledge and skills. We should not forget to mention the transnational project meetings that took part already, the first one in Italy and the latest being in June this year in Germany.

WHAT IS NEXT?

Some UPCOMING subjects on our project may be of interest for you:

Ever wondered how you can get more practical on taking action on the SDG's? Playing our new board game that we are announcing would be your best experience to practice on this topic. Stay in tune until next year and follow your expectations on this new game we are in the process of developing which relates fully to sustainability and taking action on sustainable development. New experiences follow new rules and missions on our way to tackling global issues of wide importance.
